THE BINDER SYSTEM – A MOBILE HEADQUARTERS

Have you ever...

- Wanted to earn better grades and still have time for extra-curricular activities and socializing?
- Forgotten to do a homework assignment?
- Forgotten certain books, notebooks, or folders at school that you needed for homework?
- Been annoyed as your parents 'nagged' you about homework or studying?
- Brought the wrong folder or notebook to class?
- Misplaced a homework assignment that you knew you did?
- Looked inside your bag to find a sea of randomly stashed papers staring back at you?
- Felt rushed or frustrated getting ready for school in the morning?

WHAT YOU'LL NEED FOR YOUR BINDER

3-Ring Binder: Let's call it a Mobile Headquarters – A sturdy 2-inch binder with front and back pockets or a fabric binder with a zipper. This binder will have everything you need. Don't go to class without it!

Colored Folders with 3 hole punch: These folders should fit into the binder. The folders are to keep you organized from class to class. Each colored folder will be for a specific class. Blue=Social Studies, Red=ELA, Yellow=Math, Green= Science. Label each folder its class name. Part of your homework time should be spent organizing papers – every paper has a home! Keep only the papers you are currently working on in your binder. After taking chapter/unit tests, store all graded papers at home.

Planner: mandatory and provided by TEA for your first copy. Keep this in the front of your Mobile HQ.

Record assignments as the teacher gives them in class. You will be able to reference back to your planner for your daily/weekly homework. If planner gets lost, it is the students responsibility to replace it (can purchase another one from office for $5).

Zipper pencil pouch with 3 rings: This will hold pencils, erasers, scissors, red pens, glue sticks, colored pencils or crayons, highlighters, notecards, and correction tape. Keep a light load – only carry what you need, the extras will stay in your locker.

Middle school is a BIG change that comes with more responsibility. The 6th grade teachers are asking for you to be prepared for each new day and class. During the school year, you will run out of supplies, example pencils, glue, colored pencils. Please continue to update your supplies throughout the year. It is your responsibility to have these items in each class. Please communicate with your parents/guardians if you run out of a school supply. This is also your responsibility, to let your parents/guardians know what you need for class. The 6th grade teachers would greatly appreciate that you come to class prepared and ready to learn. 😊
